Miss Susan Wood and Dean Elmer Rowley contributed the Christmas tree and Mrs. Lucille McCarty and Mrs. Juanita Manhart contributed the coffee, Mrs. Charlotte Carter provided the dishes, cups, etc. and Miss Grayce Stadler furnished cookies. Miss Wood also furnished a special nut blend.

Guests were Ellery Frost, director of trade and industrial training, Harris Ender-son, adult education assis-tant, and Mrs. Lois Byrd, sec-retary.

A gift exchange was held.

The decorations in the office were done by Dr. Hal Dellinger. He cut the music stencils for the windows and put them on.

STUDENT FROM HIROSHIMA

ball is popular in Japan, other sports played in America are not so popular there. Ken-neth says he is surprised at the great number of boys who can play football and basket-ball and do it so well.

Finally, on the subject of the relation between the United States and Japan--in fact, any oriental country--Kenneth is suprised at the very little knowledge that Am-ericans have about the Far East. He was equally surpris-ed at the number of things he had heard about the United States which proved to be wrong.

In his missionary work, Kenneth feels he may be able to educate both Japanese and Americans about each other. He is already taking steps in that direction. His sweet-heart, who teaches school in Japan, also wants to know more about America, so Kenneth has sent her several magazines which he got together with the help of Miss Susan Wood, as-sistant dean. Kenneth seems to be well on his way to be-coming a good will ambassador for both countries.

OUTLINES DUTIES

Dr. Hal Dellinger of the music department has an extra job this year as a college ad-viser.

Dr. Dellinger says that his job includes pre-registra-tion, assisting students once each six weeks in analyses of their studies, helping them in program planning and changes. "Most students are wonder-fully cooperative," says Dr. "D". "For the most part, stu-dents are wonderful to work with."

He expressed the wish that more students would come in and just talk to him, if they wish. He finds working with students stimulating and fas-cinating.

Dr. "D" says that this extra job is worth the extra time if it can help a student reach his vocational goal more effectively.

Dr. Dellinger did his un-dergraduate work at Pittsburgh, Kansas State Teachers College and the University of Kansas. He did graduate work at the University of Kansas and at Teachers College, Columbia U-niversity. He had special guidance studies with Dr. Ruth Strang while doing his grad-uate work.

He counsels music, fine arts and pre-education students.
